WHAT WE DO

Legal Representation

The decision to provide legal representation to an individual is informed by DRM's annual Advocacy Services Plan, available resources and our commitment to affect broad-based, significant and lasting change for Marylanders with disabilities.

Systemic Advocacy

In coalition with community partners and key stakeholders, DRM engages in class action litigation, conducts outreach and trainings, reviews regulations and legislation, engages in policy advocacy, and investigates facilities for abuse and neglect and rights violations.

Resources & Referrals

DRM empowers people with disabilities to advocate for themselves, or for their loved ones, by sharing resources, providing legal assistance and making referrals.
